

Hello and Greetings, I own New Music Promote and Chicago Music Promotions. I started this new website in April of 2008 since i felt it was needed since my other site is mostly geared for chicago area, also it was making everyone confused about the domain name so i just said heck with it and built this site so there is no more confusion .

I hope everyone likes the new site and all the features available, i have worked very hard at home to make everything perfect for you as a musician, djay or label to offer the best that most sites wont even give to you unless they plaster your profile with endless advertisements. As for my personal life not really much to tell i am 30 years old i live in chicago (lakeview by the cubs stadium), i have 2 cats, i have a partner (yes i am ****) but i am married and have been that way for about 5 years now. I also volunteer working with Autistic Kids and Teens in the chicago area .

I Love going to events, and filming and taking photos so you will see alot of videos, photos and other things all over the network plus I have a very indept Youtube Page with alot more videos on it thats not on the site, My site has been featured by Fox News Chicago and other Blogs for things we have done for talent around the US so enjoy the site and tell your friends to come on by .

See you Soon .
