My name is Steve Tibbets. I'm a dude who writes and plays music - me and a guitar for the most part. I guess you'd call it folk or rock or country or alt-country - or maybe you wouldn't call it any of those things. I don't know you, we haven't met. Shoot, call it whatever you like, and thanks for listening! I'm local to Alexandria, Virginia, which is a suburb right outside Washington, D.C. I'm making a go at being a working musician before I lose what's left of my hair and I become the sort of middle-aged guy I made fun of when I was a snotty teenager. Thanks a lot for visiting the MySpace page, feel free to download the music, or just shoot me an email at stevetibbets@hotmail.com or stevetibbets@gmail.com and I'll send you MP3 files of the songs I wrote. The recordings at www.myspace.com/stevetibbets are rough, and I hope to put more polished ones up before too long. Thanks for visiting! If you come out to watch me play, please say hello and coffee/beer/beverage of your choice is on me.
