Even if they were formed in a garage, Trigger Fish is anything but your typical garage band. Created in the summer of 2009 Martin, Dax, and Justin wanted their music to be anything but ordinary. Sporting influences such as Sublime, Nirvana, The Beatles, Bob Dylan, The Pixies, Travis Barker, and Social Distortion, Trigger Fish clearly shows where their roots are. Their songs can be described as a reformed version of the nineties. With vengeful hits like "On The Verge" and "Joyride" and a challenging love song called "Evony" Trigger Fish is just getting started and they're ready for whatever may come their way.
