Raj Mahal started in the music world in the early '90's when Detroit's hip hop scene was flaring. Hip hop was the first genre to capture his passion which soon spread into many other genres including jazz, funk, reggae, world and afro-beat. Raj was DJ-ing night clubs and underground parties on the east side of Detroit where he began producing hip hop. After a hiatus from music Raj returned to light the city of Ann Arbor, MI on fire a little over one year ago. He has moved to Chicago due to his success as of 6 months ago and has since obtained 2 weekly spots and a monthly in the city. Raj is currently working on an album release in his desire to share his heat.
