Honestly my husbands been doing music for years and it took up so much of his time I soon became interested in what goes on in the studio. Don't Get me wrong I've always been passionate about music but I was more on the A&R side cyphering between what I though was good and bad music. Well one day my husband challenged me to get on a beat I did and everybody that came to our studio was diggin it so here we are a husband and wife team bringing something new to the game.
